About George Sink, P.A Injury Lawyers

For over 35 years, our firm has been helping injured people, disabled veterans, and their families collect well-deserved benefits. George Sink himself is a military veteran, having served two tours in Vietnam as a Captain in the Marine Corps. Firsthand and through our clients, we witness the unique demands military families face on a regular basis. Risky endeavors, long stints away from home, and limited compensation can make life challenging. Without support and resources, some military families may put education on the back

We believe current or past service or having a close family member in the military should not hinder young leaders from getting a quality education or pursuing their goals. It is our hope that our Veterans & Military Family Scholarship will help an aspiring student get a college education. We encourage all eligible students to apply.
